INOUE TAKENIKO

I like going outside at about 5:00 in the morning. The sky is beautiful and no one is singing loudly, so I can enjoy observing the changing seasons. A manga artist's job is to work for his company as well as his school-going readers. Over time, these things can change a person in strange ways. With the way I wake up so early, I look at myself and say: "I've become a manga artist."
